

NEWS RELEASE

Subject: KINETICO INCORPORATED

Contact: JAN JACKAM - ACADEMY ADMINISTRATOR

Release Date: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LOCAL WATER PROCESSING EQUIPMENT SERVICE PROFESSIONAL ATTENDS MANUFACTURER'S TRAINING SEMINAR

NEWBURY, OHIO – George Teeter, a member of the staff at Corning Appliance in Corning, NY, has successfully completed the professional service seminar at Kinetico's Service Academy, the training arm of Kinetico Incorporated, Newbury, Ohio.

Teeter, along with other service professionals working for dealerships across the country, participated in this intensive service training seminar conducted by Kinetico, a manufacturer of non-electric, metered, demand operated, twin tank water processing equipment.

The seminars are designed to reinforce previous training about the unique operating features of Kinetico equipment, sharpen servicing skills, inform participants of upcoming product changes and give in-depth instruction on the servicing of new products. Teeter received a Certificate of Excellence for successfully completing all phases of the training.

George Teeter is pictured with Keith Tompkins, President (left) of Kinetico Incorporated.

Corning Appliance is the authorized Kinetico Dealer in this area, and offers a full range of water processing equipment, including water softeners, drinking water systems and problem water filters to consumers and businesses.

###